RESEARCH INTERESTS

Research Interests

My research interests lie at the intersection of international commercial law, investment law, constitutional law, and human rights, with a regional focus on South Asia, particularly Pakistan. I am deeply engaged with the legal and policy dimensions of foreign direct investment (FDI), especially in the context of large-scale transnational initiatives such as the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC).

I am particularly interested in:

- The legal framework governing FDI in developing countries, and its interaction with WTO law, bilateral investment treaties (BITs), and international arbitration;
- The evolution of constitutional protections for human rights and their implementation in national legal systems;
- The legal implications of data sovereignty, digital infrastructure governance, and cybersecurity within transnational economic projects;
- The role of AI and digital technologies in transforming contract law, commercial transactions, and anti-corruption mechanisms;
- Comparative media and speech regulation, analyzing Pakistan's legal framework in light of UN, EU, and US free speech norms.

My research combines doctrinal legal analysis with comparative and interdisciplinary approaches, aiming to contribute to policy-oriented legal reform in Pakistan and similar jurisdictions.
